Linda Salas
Boulder County Clerk
Via e-mail

Dear Linda,

As our new Clerk, we trust that you will consider it a high priority to investigate the many unresolved mail ballot election issues left behind unresolved by your predecessor. These issues have built up over a period of time, but are still relevant and demand resolution. Voters are losing confidence in election results.

It is my understanding that you are seeking input on the question of future mandatory mail ballot elections. There is no need to seek further input. The input was clearly delivered by the voters when they rejected Amendment 28 by an overwhelming majority with 59,305 against, and only 38,851 for the measure. This defeat is in the same range as your impressive victory with 63,856 votes. I assume that you concur that the function of the Clerk's office is to serve the people.

As you will discover when you examine the open items to which I refer, the Boulder County mail ballot election of November 2001 proved conclusively that mail ballot elections are filled with error, fraud, and intimidation, and deprived voters of a secret ballot and disenfranchised hundreds of voters.

If you do not have the file of unresolved issues, we are happy to help reconstruct them for you.

We hope that you will cease any evaluation of mail ballot elections. The issue is closed. We hope that you are not planning to subvert the will of the voters of Boulder County by attempting to force voters to vote by mail ballot. This would be wrong.

Sincerely,

Al Kolwicz
